Description

Mentoring has been a dynamic journey with our mentees, encompassing various aspects essential for their growth and development. The regular attendance of mentees has been commendable, reflecting their commitment and dedication towards the mentoring process. Their consistent presence has laid a strong foundation for effective learning and engagement. Furthermore, the attitude of mentees towards learning has been notably positive, as evidenced by their active participation and enthusiasm during mentoring sessions. This eagerness to learn has contributed significantly to their progress in understanding the syllabus since SEM-II, demonstrating marked improvement in their overall comprehension

In terms of progress, mentees have exhibited commendable growth in their understanding of the syllabus, showcasing a deeper grasp of the concepts covered thus far. Their engagement and interaction during discussions have been insightful, indicating a solid foundation of knowledge. Moreover, behavioral aspects among mentees have been encouraging, with notable professionalism and respect displayed during interactions.

Discussions on mentees' overall progress have highlighted not only academic achievements but also their moral and motivational development. Mentoring sessions have provided a platform for addressing challenges and fostering resilience, thereby enhancing mentees' confidence and self-belief. Additionally, progress in VAC (Values and Ethics Committee) initiatives has been notable, with mentees actively participating in various ethical discussions and activities, contributing positively to their holistic development.
