Learning Outcome : The session enabled mentees to understand the importance of regular attendance and its impact on academic and professional development. Through discussions on BPE and IICMR Today, mentees gained actionable insights on etiquette and professional behavior that could be applied to real-life situations. The feedback process for the Skill Development Program encouraged mentees to voice their thoughts constructively, contributing to the program's refinement. Enhanced understanding of the syllabus and updates on current business affairs helped mentees align their academic efforts with market trends and expectations. The focus on language lab progress and formal attire discipline reinforced the significance of communication skills and professional presentation. Overall, the session prepared mentees for academic success and instilled a mindset of continuous learning and professional growth.

Description :

The third mentoring session for the MBA Batch 2023-24 focused on evaluating mentees' progress and addressing their queries across various academic and professional parameters. Mentors began by discussing the importance of maintaining regular attendance and addressed any issues related to absenteeism. The session also explored mentees' key takeaways from the BPE (Business Professional Etiquette) program, emphasizing the application of these insights in their personal and professional interactions.

Feedback on the ongoing Skill Development Program (SDP) was solicited to identify areas for improvement. Suggestions included integrating more hands-on activities and real-life problem-solving tasks. Mentors clarified mentees' doubts regarding their syllabus and provided guidance on aligning academic efforts with evaluation criteria and learning objectives.
